

Passion Talks Conference: Connecting work and faith

UC Berkeley • August, 23rd 2014

The Passion Talks Conference is a forum for grad students, academics and professionals to share and discuss our work and research, and to consider how our faith intersects with and impacts upon our work.

Founded in 2012 by Christian grad students from UC Berkeley, UC Santa Cruz, and Stanford, Passion Talks is a growing platform for considering the work-faith connection in all disciplines.

Passion Talks are short talks from academics and professionals integrating vocation, faith, and passion.

*Submission deadline: July 31st, 2014
Acceptances notified on a rolling basis
www.passiontalks.org*